

You have received an email message from your English-speaking pen-friend Matthew:

From: Friend@mail.uk
To: Russian_friend@ege.ru
Subject: Welcome
...We've just set the clock forward again for the Daylight Saving Time. I understand it is important for saving energy, but it's so difficult to wake up an hour early! I usually go to bed quite late at night because of all the homework. School begins at 7 am, so I have to be at the school bus stop at 6:30! What time do you usually go to bed and wake up? How do you get to school? How much time do you spend on your homework? Oh no! While I was writing this letter, my little brother dropped and broke my phone!

Write an email to Matthew. In your message:

- answer his questions;
  - ask 3 questions about Matthew's phone.
- Write 100–140 words. Remember the rules of email writing.