

You have received a letter from your English-speaking pen-friend Glenn who writes:

... My dream has finally come true! I got a really good flute for my birthday! I've been taking flute lessons for quite a while, and now I'm all set for an important music competition. Does anyone in your family play a musical instrument? Which instrument is it, if any? What kind of music do you like listening to? What role does music play in your life?

By the way, my big sister Anne is getting married next week...

Write a letter to Glenn.

In your letter
